Dear Larry:

Well, the "Second Bell" was more perfect than the first. How can that be? I know the song, "Love's More Wonderful - The Second Time Around", but a Key Note Speech. I guess it's true - "Larry's More Wonderful - The Second Time Around."

Thank you does not express my feelings well enough. The talent you have deserves way more than a "thank you". The energy and enthusiasm you have that spills all over the audience is so wonderful. The evaluations are absolutely glowing. They want you back AGAIN. I don't even know what to say. You are motivating, inspiring, exacting, funny, frank, on message every minute. You teach and do it with excitement and surprise, and you challenge everyone in the room to be better at every turn. You involve people and you excite them, practicing everything you preach. Very few of us can say that.

I spoke with one of my chapter leaders who is really a pretty tough gal. She is not sentimental or emotional or given to being particularly impressed with much. She said she wanted to marry you!! I'm not kidding. You'd almost have to know her to really appreciate this, but she told her whole staff on Friday morning after the Kick-Off that she wanted to marry you because you would treat her way better than her husband, you would tell her she was wonderful, and she would feel terrific every day she was alive. I was laughing hysterically when she was talking to me. It was the best, most heartfelt ringing endorsement of your abilities that I have heard.

With all my heart and mind, I thank you. Your ability to make everyone in a huge room (all 470) feel better about what they do, empowered to do more, and enthusiastic about their chosen profession is such a gift. You must get exhausted, but you never show it. Your energy is boundless. You must get discouraged, but you are always upbeat. You must get lonely being on the road, but you make everyone feel like you are thrilled to be right where you are. You are such a good learner.
