Let's Get Excited About Teaching!

This seminar is participant driven, interactive, full of strategies you can use immediately and super fun!

What will be presented:

- Characteristics of Struggling Learners and How to Address their Needs

Many struggling learners are easily distracted, have high absentee rates, and other issues that prevent them from being successful. You will receive concrete strategies to address many of these issues.

- Ways to Engage Unmotivated Students

There are basic elements to an exciting and inspiring lesson. These will be shared and discussed so participants may customize them to meet their specific students' needs. Engaging instructional delivery techniques will also be presented and modeled.

- Instructional Strategies that Help Struggling Learners

It is imperative to use strategies proven to help struggling learners excel in the classroom. There are specific areas of instruction that need to be addressed in order for these students to learn. The strategies presented have been helping struggling learners far exceed anyone's expectations!

- Ways to Improve Test Scores of Under-Achieving Students

Simple strategies used during the year can greatly improve the performance of struggling learners on end of year assessments. From common sense techniques to complex ideas, there are proven ways to ensure your students will demonstrate what they have been taught.

- Positive Classroom Management Techniques

The ability to encourage while disciplining is an art that teachers must master in order to avoid shutting down students who are struggling. Ways to build up a student while showing them how their current actions are counter-productive will be presented.

- Establishing Fundamentals that Help Struggling Learners Navigate an Academic Environment

We are losing frustrated teachers because students come to school without some of the basics necessary to be successful in an academic environment. The fundamentals shared will allow each teacher to help every student develop a deep understanding of behaviors that create success.
